EVENTS CONNECTION

Welcome July! The day's are longer, the people are out, and the fun is well under way. If there is something fun we missed, that should have been published, please send us the info. We try to bring you a diverse list of events every month. All around the Valley during July, there are a number of events that barely get any promotion. We don't hear about them until the weekend of, or after the fact.

If you have an event you think Mesa County Connection should list or cover as an article, please reach out! We are always looking for something new to put in the magazine. From festivals to races, and hiking to biking, we are looking to connect the community with a variety of things to do, and places to see in Mesa County.

PUBLISHING & DESIGN JESSE FORNWALT

We are starting this July 2023 issue with the Western Colorado Drag Way. This place has events almost every weekend in July. If you want to see pure exhilaration on your child's face, this is where you want to bring them; feel the excitement when one of these vehicles start, or burn rubber down the strip. Some even get to watch their kid race all the time. It's our pleasure to introduce you to the Devaney Family of racers, and Grandpa Yurick, in this salute to Father's Day Races.

The intention is not to harsh on Glenwood Spring's Strawberry Days. It's a wonderful experience, that boasts more kid friendly activities than any other festival this magazine has covered! The venue is also gorgeous! Two River's Park is kind of out of the way though, so parking may have been an issue for some, unless you were a vendor or handicapped.

There are so many events in July, it's challenging to list them all. However, we do welcome your suggestions. Shoot us a message to let us know what you think takes precedence.

Finally, in our search to bring you all the events in July's magazine, we stumble upon absurd ticket prices from scalpers. Keep your eye out for people trying to take advantage of your entertainment.

Dragway

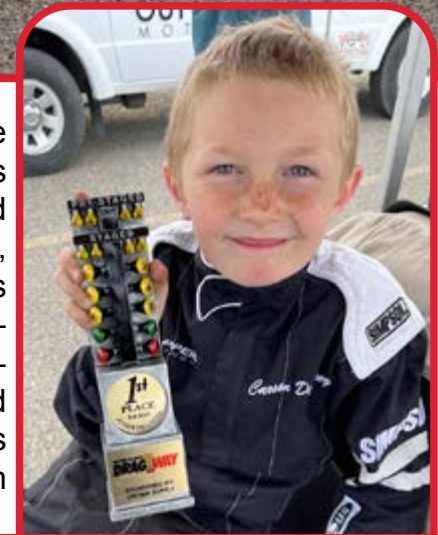

It's an absolute pleasure to see the look on kids' faces' when they hear the chest rumbling boom released at the drag way! Elation and smiles seemed to be the theme of this Father's Day weekend.

Contestants compete in three classes; however, racers were also there to "Test & Tune" their vehicles, and gain licenses to drive them here. Western Colorado Dragway being the only drag strip between Denver and Roosevelt, Utah, attracts enthusiasts from across the Western Slope and Eastern Utah.

Trent Dinkel seen below, is a local racer showing off his pristine Dodge titled "Wedge Hammer", which is under the AFX category. For those of us who don't know drag way terminology, FX stands for Factory Experimental, which is used for cars that have been altered, either by modifying stock parts, super charging the engine, and/ or, altering the wheel base. The "A" comes from Aurora, which was a plastics corporation in the 70's, who started altering the bodies of cars, as well as the engine. They also introduced Slot Cars and related accessories in 1971<sup>1</sup>.

The other classes racing this weekend were Pro, No Box and Junior Dragster. With it being Father's Day weekend, it is imperative that we mention a family team who seems to race all categories. Including the youngest.

On the top right is the Devaney family and Grandpa Yurick. Grandpa Yurick has been a fan of racing for 40 years and finally gets the opportunity to watch his whole family participate. To the left of him is his daughter Nicole Devaney. She raced for the first time Father's Day weekend, gaining her license. To the left of her, is her husband Reed, who has been racing as long as their son, to the right. Carson Devaney is 7 years old and started bringing titles home right away. This first place trophy was awarded to him on the very first race of the season here at Western Colorado Dragway.

It's inspiring to see a family team like this supporting the continuation of drag racing. They started early with Carson, and hope to see him progress to Pro and Super Pro down the line.

Last but not least, we have our racer from the Pro class. Jeremy Styers to the bottom right, has little to do with the article, but his car is rad and had to be put in here!

Strawberry Days!!!

When observing an event for the first time, it's hard not to think about the good and bad parts. Of course we showed up to have fun. We want a awesome time, without trivialities to interfere with our joy.

Strawberry Days is a great time! There was no holding back when they organized this kid friendly celebration with plenty of activities. Live music from the 101st Army Band stunned the crowd with their harmonic "old time" sound, that even got their Superior Officers dancing.

Other bands that played throughout the weekend, were locals such as Cody Jeffreys and Highway 82 Band, both from the Roaring Fork Valley. Funkiphino, Dustin Elliot & The Broken Radio, The Know Bodies Band, Ponder the Albatross, Echo Monday, Rodrigo, Los Mochets and Peach Street Revival were all bands entertaining the crowd.

The 3 day festival also featured Line Dance Lessons with Rachel DeGraffenried, Fire Dancing, Food & Alcohol vendors, Aerial Acrobatics and a complete lack of STRAWBERRIES!

If you are downtown on 8th & Grand Avenue, you will notice plaques on the wall of the shared building of Colorado Mountain College and the Glenwood Springs Chamber, which reads, "From New Castle to Parachute, Glenwood Springs to Eagle, Carbondale to Aspen, the farmers of the local valleys produce some of the states finest fruits, vegetables and dairy products.

The need for expanded markets and better prices for their produce prompted the farmers to organize an event, better yet, a tradition: Strawberry Days". The plaque goes on to speak about the very first Strawberry Days, which was agriculturally based, and geared towards showing off the best of local farmer's produce. 128 years later, the plump, delicious strawberries that were celebrated a century ago have seem to become a myth.

With as much as going on at the venue as there was, Two River's Park may not have been able to handle a Farmer's Market also. Access to the event was limited, meaning, if you didn't want to park in the $20 paid parking for this free event, you were forced to find parking wherever you could, and hope to not be towed. The walk was then across the overpass of I-70 to the gorgeous Two River's Park.

If the theme of Strawberry Days was shopping for bulky produce, transporting all your purchased items would have been a headache. Now, 4 whole months are dedicated to the farmer's. From June - September on Tuesdays from 4 - 8pm you can come down to the Market on Main Street, park in the abundant parking garage and shop all our local farmers' produce.

The tradition must continue. With the increase of attendance, and lack of space to accommodate such a crowd, Glenwood Springs needs to work with what they got. Organizing separate events, one to pass on the tradition, and another for maximizing farmer's profits, seems to be the best way to get both worlds.

Internet Ticket

Scalpers

As the summer months heat up, don't be deceived by the devious scams surrounding event tickets. Scalpers go out of their way to get your money. The only way to get around this, is doing some good ol' fashion research.

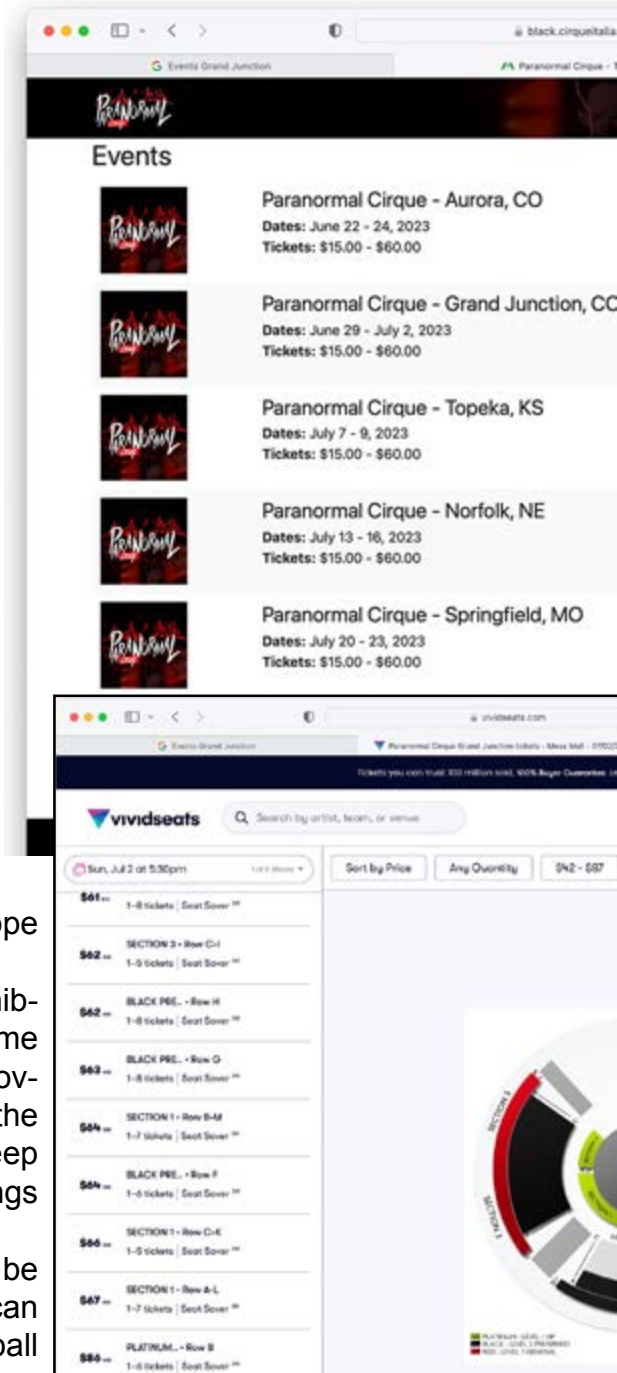

Maybe convenience is worth a 20 - 50% hike in price. Not everyone wants to go to multiple websites to find the perfectly priced ticket. With some major events, you are forced to go through giant monopolies such as Ticket Master. However, some of our local shows, or maybe even some that run on a circuit, have their own website and lower ticket prices.

Take for instance this Paranormal Cirque coming to Mesa County between June and July. On their home website you can get tickets from $15 - $60 depending on the your seat. The same ticket on Vividseats runs $42 - $86. That's Double!

The same goes for the smallest local events. There are companies reselling Grand Junction Jackalope tickets starting at $10 over face value.

There is no Federal Law prohibiting the resale of tickets. While some states have laws, there is nobody governing the overall market. Besides the Internet being too vast for a state to keep track of, they probably have better things to do.

The only real conclusion is to be very careful when buying tickets. You can get Grand Junction Jackalope Baseball tickets starting at $10 on their website.
